TAKATA AIRBAG INDIVIDUAL RESTITUTION FUND AND TORT COMPENSATION TRUST FUND

NOTICE OF APPEAL

NOTICE OF APPEAL

You may appeal the determination of your IRF, Trust, or POEM Claim by filing a Notice of Appeal.¹ You may appeal the Special Master/Trustee's determination of ineligibility or noncompensability. You may appeal the amount of the award. If your Claim is a POEM Claim, you may appeal the denial of Individual Review.

To appeal the determination of your IRF, Trust, or POEM Claim, you must file this Notice of Appeal with the Special Master/Trustee within 30 days of the date of receipt of your rejection or award letter.² If a Notice of Appeal is not submitted within 30 days, the proposed determination will become final, binding, and non-appealable, subject to the discretion of the Special Master/Trustee for good cause shown.

If you appeal an IRF Claim, an independent third-party Review Officer will re-examine your Claim File and make a recommendation to the Special Master. The Special Master will then make a final determination with respect to the Claim and issue a proposed award determination to the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan for that Court's approval.

If you appeal a Trust Claim, your Claim File will be submitted to the Future Claimants' Representative (the "FCR") for Supplemental Review. The FCR will then re-examine your Claim File in accordance with the factors set forth in Section 5.4 of the Second Amended Trust Distribution Procedures ("TDP").

If you appeal your POEM Claim determination, an independent Review Officer will be assigned to re-examine your POEM Claim. You have 30 days from the date you file this Notice of Appeal to submit an optional submission — not to exceed 10 double-spaced pages — setting forth the reason(s) for your appeal. For more information about the POEM appeal process, please see the Trust's FAQs, available at www.takataairbaginjurytrust.com/faq.

If you would like to appeal your Claim, complete this Notice of Appeal and submit it to the Claims Administrator. This Notice of Appeal may be signed by the Claimant, Legal Representative, or the attorney representing the Claimant or Legal Representative. You must submit this Notice of Appeal within 30 days of receipt of the Special Master/Trustee's determination of your IRF, Trust, or POEM Claim to be eligible for appellate review. Please be certain to identify each and every claim type (IRF, Trust and/or POEM Claim) you are electing to appeal. Your election to appeal only one claim type is not sufficient to notice an appeal of other applicable claim types that you may have.

You may submit this Notice of Appeal to the Claims Administrator online, through the Administration Portal at www.TakataInjuryClaimSubmission.com, by email at Questions@TakataAirbagInjuryTrust.com, or by mail at the Claims Administrator's mailing addresses:
